

KWILTKEYS – THE FIRST UNIVERSAL IOS PHOTO KEYBOARD

Discover the fastest way to access and share any photo from anywhere to any app on iOS devices

NEW YORK – June 25, 2015 – Kwilt, the makers of the KwiltPhotos app, today announced the private KwiltKeys beta for iOS users at CE Week. KwiltKeys is the fastest and easiest way to share any photos directly from a custom iOS keyboard, giving users easy access to all of their photos from any source directly from their mobile.

KwiltKeys gives iPhone owners access to their photos from any source, including the camera roll, Instagram, Facebook, Dropbox, Flickr, Photobucket, Google+ and more all in one place right at their fingertips.

“KwiltKeys eliminates the barriers to communicating and sharing photos, while making everyday conversations more lively and fun”, said Marc-Antoine Benglia, CEO at Kwilt. “KwiltKeys gives users an intuitive photo sharing experience and removes the hassle of having to navigate between platforms and apps to locate and share a specific image.”

Unlike other keyboard technologies such as SwiftKey, TouchPal, Swype, Fleksy and QuickType, KwiltKeys streamlines users’ photo-sharing experience by giving users direct photo access, right on their mobile keyboard without ever having to leave their keyboard or switch between apps.

KEY FEATURES:

- Streams photos from over a dozen of the most popular photo and social networking platforms without needing or using additional data storage
- Instant photo sorting with filters including date, location and photo streams
- All-in-one direct keyboard access to photos

PRICING AND AVAILABILITY:

KwiltKeys Beta is available on iOS and will soon be available for Android users. iOS users are invited to join the private Beta by registering at www.kwiltkeys.com.
